Santa busted in Campbell for outstanding tickets

SANTA CLAUS was almost run down on a busy Campbell thoroughfare last Thursday, but the tragedy was averted by a kindly Campbell police officer who escorted the old gentleman to the pokey.

Father Christmas, it seems, did not have a license to solicit charity funds. And, a further investigation revealed, Santa, a Berkeley man, had outstanding traffic warrants amounting to $42.

The man, dressed as Santa, had been standing on a traffic island near the Pruneyard, where a passerby — Campbell Police Chief Don Burr — became alarmed at a couple of near misses when Santa darted out into traffic to ask for money from passing motorists. A routine check showed Howell had not applied for the license.

"ANYWAY," ONE police officer noted, "we do not issue licenses to stand in the middle of the street."

Because Santa had no money to pay the warrants, he was taken to the County Jail, but he departed from Campbell with the spirit of Christmas still intact.

Discovered later atop the police department's Christmas tree was a cellophane-wrapped crushed candy cane with a note for Chief Burr, which said: "Since you went 10-15 (prisoner transport) with me this evening, I have decided that the attached present will be ALL that you will be receiving this year."

It was signed "Santa."

We hear you

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I agree with the downtown business people who say their business is being "killed" by the new one-way traffic. I notice that I too just drive right through now without stopping and with the traffic so fast I don't have time to look and see what's there. So I agree with them 100 per cent and I feel sorry for the business people.

Former Downtown Shopper

Of course those businessmen (in downtown Campbell) aren't getting much business these days. Have you driven the new (one-way) streets? You have to keep both eyes peeled for wrong way drivers and people changing lanes without signaling. There's no time to look at the stores.

Local Motorist

Editor's note: We received a total of four calls last week. And all agreed with business owners that they don't (or can't) stop and shop in downtown Campbell like they used to. The city is studying the problem now. And the installation of a new "No Left Turn" sign below the signal on Central at Campbell avenue should help cut down on the wrong way drivers.

I'd just like to sound off about the Peace on Earth sign. I'd like to send a big Christmas card to the people who put it up. I know in the past they've had a hassle over that sign but I thank them for it. I really appreciate it.

Sign Supporter

Your editorial (opposing the cable TV rate hike) spurred me to act. I called the city and couldn't reach any of the councilmen but a woman there suggested I cancel my service, if I felt that strongly, and put up an antenna instead. I called Gill and asked that I get the cheapest of the three types of services offered (12 channels and no G channel) and found people don't have a choice. They tell you which service you'll get. Now I'm really mad and I want to know who to talk to.

Irate Cable Customer

Editor's note: We gave the woman three phone numbers. The differing service offered by the company has to do with the area you live in, and Gill's equipment, not with an optional service level.

That story on discrimination (on a senior citizen housing complex). I don't think Rusty (Councilman Rusty Hammer) can make his point stick. Especially about the handicapped. Businesses that allow people in wheelchairs, for instance, have different building requirements and I know of several senior citizen homes, or retirement complexes, that don't allow any but ambulatory residents. If you get sick, you have to leave.

Sad But True

I thought discrimination in housing was illegal. And, to me, it doesn't make any difference whether or not its a church group or private. And the argument about convents doesn't hold much water either. This project is public housing and a convent doesn't qualify under that definition.

Local Businessman

I just wanted to call and say how much I like the call in column. It's the first thing I read. But I have a question. Why are some comments so long and others just a line or two. Surely, everyone who calls in has a lot to say?

Curious

Editor's note: Usually, they do. But sometimes, when I'm out of the office I just get a short message with the "We Hear You" comment. And other times the comment can best be condensed. Many people

Housing project violates city general plan, Hammer charges

COUNCILMAN Rusty Hammer, who raised the question of discrimination over plans for a senior citizen complex last week, says he'll have some other points to raise at the Monday night session of the City Council.

The Council meets at 8 p.m. in City Hall, 75 N. Central ave.

Last Friday Hammer said he plans to raise the issue of financing and present city law in questioning the legality of the project. A total of 105 units are proposed for property at 250 Budd ave., adjacent to a large apartment complex near the San Tomas expressway. Plans call for accepting only members of the Christian Science church (or that at least one spouse be a member) and that handicapped individuals will not be allowed.

"IF THE PROJECT is financed by a bank or savings and loan company," Hammer declared Friday, "discrimination is illegal." He explained that all banking institutions are covered by the federal deposit insurance corporation and thereby, subject to federal anti-discrimination laws.

Hammer says he also researched the city's housing element to the general plan and says that calls for non-discrimination in housing.

City Attorney J. Robert Dempster, who disagreed with Hammer at the Dec. 13 meeting, is scheduled to give a report on the issue that night.

Also to be discussed is a possible safety hazard, raised by Vice Mayor Bill Podgorsek. The public works and building department are expected to report on possible hazards in the three driveways planned for the Budd ave. project.

HAMMER emphasized Friday that he doesn't have anything against any particular church or individual in this issue.

"It's just that what's right is right."

He feels that if the city should approve something that doesn't meet non-discrimination standards, "we're perpetuating a wrong."

There was singing, dancing, games and goodies for close to 200 people at the Campbell library last week. Decorating the tree was the first order of business but what followed was a lot of fun, too. For more pictures and the story, see page 3 of today's PRESS.

Mayor's request for sign gets a second hearing

A motion for denial of Mayor Ralph Doetsch's sign application was being proposed last Thursday when Planning Commissioner Don Hebard, arriving late, came up with a compromise.

Doetsch, who owns property at 2175 Winchester, blvd., was one of the applicants appearing before the Commission last week. His request was for a change in the existing non-conforming sign on his property to identify Martin's Furniture, a new tenant.

The city sign review committee however, had recommended denial of that application since Doetsch's sign is too high by present standards. The existing sign ordinance limits any sign to no more than 35 feet and the Winchester blvd. sign measures 44 feet from base to bell tower. Most sign permits however, are limited to that of surrounding businesses and, in Doetsch's case, that would be about 12 to 14 feet.

After discussion the application was referred back to the Site and Architectural Review Committee to work out a possible compromise.

Key for Scorpio—exercise moderation

Dec. 25 thru Dec. 31

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Relationship which seems to be unravelling should be hemmed neatly with thread of honest respect. One born under the sign of Pisces may have you, Ari, in stitches before week is over. Welcome the new year with resolution.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Unexpected calls drain you of energy, time and patience. One who is almost as sexy as you, Taurus, enters the picture. A wild goose chase may occur. If the feathers fly, try not to leave a trail. You're apt to be followed. Week ends on key of G, for grog, glad and goody.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Very active week ahead. You make important personal decisions. As week draws to a close, knock off work early. Last day for cash outlay. "Again?" you ask. Yes, again. Now, stop snivelling, Gem, and open your wallet.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You have rare talent for spreading joy, Moonbaby. Do so. Follow impulses. Do you really give a fig about silly gossip? Of course not. As week draws to an end, love begins. And beginnings can be so beautiful!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Time to take a new look at an old idea, Leo. You gain perspective. Memories of past days (and nights) return to comfort you. Should temperature drop to freezing, keep warm the good old-fashioned way. You know, bundling!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Deception is in the air. One who offers something for nothing is gargantuan fake. Tell this dork to buzz off. Last day, Virgo, finds you full of beans . . . and resolution.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Stay alert, Libra, and don't permit sleazy associate to glom on to you and ruin your chances for holiday fun. Be firm. New Year's Eve sure to be a real corker. Enjoy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): If you find you simply can't ignore temptation, Scorp, then the least you can do is exercise moderation. Ancient Greeks counseled: "Nothing to excess." If you are Greek, heed this counsel. If you aren't . . . pretend you are, and behave anyway.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Minor disputes fade and feeling of tenderness follows. Loved one waits impatiently outside your private little circle. Pull this person in right away and start snuggling. Then you'll both stay warm.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Busy week ahead full of unexpected delays and frustrations. Somehow, you manage to muddle through. I know I've given you this advice before, Cap, but in view of the holiday season it bears repeating: Dine leisurely, drink moderately and love with abandon. The third suggestion you do instinctively.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Social life shifts into high gear. One with interesting eyes enters picture and outrageous flirtation apt to follow. Consequences could be catastrophic, Aquari, so stay alert and off the sauce.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You ponder personal problem. Are you looking for an exit or a solution? They may appear to be one and the same, but appearances are in this case very deceiving. Forget your worries on last day and shimmy on down to where the action is Happy New Year, Pisces my pet.

Cutting a rug at the local library

The big attraction of the evening was Snoopy, ably played by Mark McCarroll of Campbell Community Services who led the singing of carols, led the Snoopy Hop and handed out goodies to the youngsters.

While the crowd waited at the elevator for Snoopy to arrive at the library last Wednesday, he was carried in by Campbell fire fighters, from left, Larry Lutz and Bruce Dahl after being rescued from the roof. Seems the adventurous pooch decided to fly in and crash landed.

A real xmas tail

Falling into line for the dancing were dozens of youngsters and adults who did a canine twist on the old bunny hop.

There were all the trappings of a successful party at the Campbell library last week. First, there were decorations, plenty of refreshments, entertainment and finally, a top notch host.

But Snoopy almost didn't make it to his own party. He'd crashed his plane on the library room and was rescued by Campbell fire fighters who rushed him downstairs to the waiting crowd. But the cheers and applause of the close to 200 people, most six and under, brought him around quickly and in no time he was shaking hands, helping trim the Christmas tree and leading the carols.

With the help of the Country Woman's club, Campbell Exchange Club and a group of talented young people from the Sweet Adelines, the library held its first ever Christmas party and invited the whole town.

Luckily, all 29,000 didn't show up. But enough did to fill the huge downstairs storage room, transformed into a party room.

And each child left with a box of wrapped candy, signed "Love Snoopy." That is, all but one.

The toddler waited patiently as other children crowded around to receive the goodies. And she wouldn't take the offered candy. Finally, her small voice could be heard above the crowd.

"I wanna kith," she said, over and over.

After Snoopy planted his black nose against her cheek, she smiled sweetly and left with her candy.

Almost disappearing into the background was Snoopy who saw his likeness plastered all over the downstairs library room, along with red and green crepe paper.

Making the rounds at the Community Christmas party, co-sponsored by the Campbell Library and Friends of the Campbell Library was "a drag" sometimes for the host, since he had a lot of hangers-on.

Editor's Notebook / The perils of an L.S.

By PAT SAFFORD

'TIS THE DAY before the night before Christmas and all through my house is wrapping paper, two Xmas stockings that need darning and three presents left to buy.

This year, for the first time in five years, I was a Late Shopper; that's L.S. for short. Usually, by Thanksgiving I was done with most of my shopping, had the ingredients bought for holiday baking and could chuckle with a superior air watching others scurry around at the last minute. In short, I was organized.

But this year, what with this and that, thoughts of sugar plums and candy canes didn't enter my head until about 10 days before Christmas.

AND I CAN tell you from bitter experience what it means to be a L.S. For one thing haste may not make for waste but it certainly makes for mistakes and inefficiency.

- I made a mistake in my "foolproof" recipe for the seven pounds of fudge I was preparing for gift giving. Now I'm trying to figure out how to wrap a giant mass of sticky fudge pudding.
- Sunday I waited in line for 45 minutes in one store only to learn just one of the nine things I ordered was in stock.
- Realized, too late, I'd bought almost identical stocking stuffers for one child that he received last year.
- Decked our halls with a large tinsel tree and used three big old tomato stakes for the frame. Herbie, the cat, used to use those stakes as a scratching post . . . and still does.
- Was temporarily stopped in my tracks by a low lying tree limb while rushing through one of the local shopping centers. I'll be wearing a bright hat to cover my "egg head."
- Spent three hours finding two presents Monday. At this rate I'll be done in March.
- Hid the kids' Christmas candy at the office in a "cool place." The molded chocolate Santas now look like members of the Blob family.

All these problems can be attributed to the L.S. syndrome and poor planning.

YOU CAN SPOT an L.S. at 30 paces if you'd care to look during the last two days.

The organized person stands patiently waiting to pick up an order she phoned in two months ago. The L.S. looks furtively at the people in front of her trying to gauge how much time they'll take. And she fidgets. Actually it's more than a fidget. I call it the Holiday Rock.

Rocking back and forth on the balls of the feet gives people the impression that the L.S. is seeking the security of an earlier stage of life. But that's not correct. Actually, he or she is using unconscious body language, trying to speed up the line. Similar to the pushing motion people use when their car's run out of gas and they want to help it roll just four feet further . . . out of the red zone.

SO IF YOU spot an L.S. this week, give her a wide berth and plenty of sympathy.

And don't give it the old, "HO, HO, HO!" routine.

It isn't funny.

call in and leave their phone number if I'm not in and I call them back for more information.

I see that the board and teachers are at it again (in the Campbell elementary school district). I thought the new law (Collective Bargaining Act) was supposed to cut down on these long drawn out hassles? I, for one, don't have much patience with either side. How can the schools hope to teach our children how to deal effectively with others, to solve problems and to get along with other people, when they don't practice what they preach?

Disgusted Reader

I want to make a correction in an article in the PRESS. We didn't ask for a signal at First st. and Orchard City drive. We asked for three-way stop signs. I know the city report said signals but that's not what was asked for. The first Tuesday that new street opened there was an accident there. A friend of mine was in the hospital for quite a while as a result of that accident. One problem there is that sound wall. It comes out too close to 1st st. and you can't see the right lane of traffic on Orchard City drive when you're trying to make a turn. I was almost hit twice there myself. I know the city got a lot of calls after that accident because members of my lodge called in to complain. And the speeds are too fast too. Many cars are going at least 50 MPH. All I have to say is just try to get across Orchard City drive at 1st st. You'll know what I mean.

An Observor

Editor's note: I understand that the city is taking a close look at that sound wall now.

I don't think you can help me but I want to sound off. The "old timer" who liked the new loop street says he or she lived here for 35 years. Well, I've lived here 40 years. I'm calling about this raceway they call Orchard City drive. I live near the corner of 2nd st. and the drive an it reminds me of a racetrack. All summer long (while construction was going on) I had to put up with dust and noise. Now, I'm a prisoner in my own house because I'm afraid to cross the street. Last Monday my daughter took me to the doctor's and, while she was driving 25 MPH on Orchard City drive, every car passed her. We need something to slow down the traffic. Last week I had to go to the band and the man who was working at the corner helped me cross the street. My neighbor won't even attempt to cross it. I think the Police Chief ought to watch the traffic along here like I have.

Siren Sounds

"WE'RE NOT KIDDING!"

Patrons of a local cocktail lounge were made aware of an armed robbery in progress Saturday when a shot was fired at a more alert customer as she fled out the front door.

According to police reports, shortly before 2 a.m. Saturday, two armed men and a woman entered Luoto's Lounge, at 2369 Winchester blvd., and demanded money from the cash register and the customers.

As the two men — one brandishing a knife and the other a hand gun — held their attention, the woman ordered the assemblage to lie down. "We're not kidding!" she said. "On the floor!" She then said to the bartender, "Give it to me — all of it, quick!"

A San Jose woman who had noticed the knife before the robbery was announced, said: "I thought a bar fight was about to begin, so I headed outside to the pay phone to call the police." She heard someone shout, "Stop lady!" but kept right on going. A shot was fired at her by one of the men, described by witnesses as about 27 years old, 6 feet, 2 inches, 170 pounds, with straight dark hair and wearing a bulky blue and orange jacket and levis.

The three suspects collected their loot and ran out the back door with an, as yet, undetermined amount of cash.

IT MAY BE PETTY TO YOU, BUT . . .

While truck driver Joseph Richard Sandoval, 26, was at work last week, someone snuck into his yard and made off with his 8-week-old male German Shepherd puppy — a "Petty Theft," according to police reports. The brown and black "full breed" dog was taken from a ground floor enclosed patio area at the rear of an apartment building at 954 Sobrato, where Sandoval lives. A six-foot fence was scaled to get at the dog, which is valued at $50.

GOING INTO BUSINESS FOR HIMSELF?

Early this month, two Campbell equipment rental businesses were victimized by "a poorly dressed man, about 20," who, with possibly false identification, rented about $1,500 worth of tools and then neglected to return them the following day, according to police.

Gardenland Power Equipment Rentals, at 196 Curtner ave., lost a post hole digger and other tools worth about $600. And 4-Points Rents, at 954 Camden, rented the suspected thief a welding set and tools valued at $863.

An investigation by police revealed that the addresses shown on the suspect's ID were, in turn, a telephone answering service and a local radio station. The San Jose Police Department is also working on several similar cases which, they believe, were committed by the same suspect.

SHOPPERS BE WARY

Campbell Christmas shoppers should be careful to see that their unattended cars are not only locked but parked in a well-lighted area visible to passersby, since the rash of automobile burglaries reported in last week's PRESS continues unabated. And now, added to several battery and other thefts, more and more cars are being sideswiped in shopping center parking lots by hit-and-run drivers.

Hamilton school closes its doors

HAMILTON SCHOOL is closing next year, while Quito School, slated for a possible closing, got a reprieve.

Officials in the Campbell elementary school district announced last week that Hamilton, at 480 E. Hamilton ave., will close its doors to students on June 16, 1977. At present almost two thirds of the students at that school are being bussed from other areas.

The board's rationale for the closing includes:

o Declining enrollment. (District-wide student population dropped by 8.2 per cent this year, the highest ever.)

o Transient population, plus almost two-thirds of the enrollment being bussed in.

o Poor geographic location. (The school is located on Hamilton ave., considered the busiest street in the county.)

o Higher maintenance cost for an older school.

o Potential cost savings to the District.

o Children could be assimilated by surrounding schools.

THE LATEST closing comes on the heels of the phase-out of Parkway School, now used by the county for the child care program.

Earlier the board considered closing Quito School, which now houses well under the 300 students considered minimum for keeping a school open. Low enrollment in schools results in more combination classrooms with second and third or fourth and fifth grade students combined, for instance.

But the Board decided that because of potential for future growth, Quito will continue operation for the 1977-78 school year.

ALSO ON tap for next year is the transfer of seventh and eighth grade students at Blackford school to Campbell junior high.

The administration announced Friday they're working with parents and teachers at Hamilton to determine the best relocation plan for Hamilton youngsters, based on equal educational programs, distance, etc.

Don't become a holiday statistic

TOP DANGER spots for Campbell motorists are the intersections of Bascom and Hamilton avenues and Campbell and Bascom, according to Police Chief Don Burr. And these should be treated with the greatest respect, Burr says, during the crackdown on drunk drivers which began last Friday for the holiday season.

"Avoid the 13," is a cooperative effort among the 13 police jurisdictions in the county, in an all-out drive to rid streets and highways of the drinking driver during the holidays. The campaign lasts through Jan. 2.

"The new loop streets downtown and the area around the Factory shopping area are also heavily traveled by shoppers and residents," Burr continued, cautioning drivers to be extra alert during the holiday rush.

THE LOCAL force of 35 officers will be augmented by the 20-member reserve department to bring patrol force up to 55 during the crackdown, Burr said. Officers are distributing "Avoid the 13" pamphlets to business and industry and will also give them to any motorists stopped.

And Burr had some sharp words of caution for any person who might drive after drinking.

"We are extremely concerned with the safety of the citizens of Campbell," he said, "and with the safety of those who use our roadways. If you're going to drink, don't drive. If you do drink and drive, you may be absolutely sure that you're going to meet one of our Campbell officers in person," he added.

VIOLATIONS of the right-of-way and excessive speed as well as drunk driving are the main causes of traffic accidents in Campbell, Burr explained.

He sees the concerted effort of the 13 jurisdictions, plus the help from business, industry and schools, as an effective way of reducing accidents and deaths during the crackdown period.

POLICE Chief Don Burr says there'll be heightened patrols on Campbell during the 12 days remaining in the "Avoid the 13" crackdown on drunk drivers.

Mediator namedin local school dispute

John McCarthy has been named mediator for the contract dispute between teachers and the School Board in the Campbell elementary school district.

The state counciliation board appointee has scheduled the first meeting with representatives of the local groups on Thursday, Jan. 6, according to a district source.

Talks between the Campbell Elementary Teacher's Association (CETA) and the board broke down over the issue of salary, binding arbitration and agency shop.

The CETA declared the impasse which sets in motion procedures under the new Collective Bargaining Act administered by the Education Employment Relations Board (EERB).

McCarthy's task is to work with both sides to iron out an agreement. And right now the two are far apart on the salary request. The board has offered four per cent while the CETA is asking for 10.5 per cent.

Downtown Campbell ave. change before council at Monday night session

A report on what it would take to convert downtown Campbell ave. back into a two-way street comes before city councilmen this Monday, Dec. 27.

The Council meets at 8 p.m. in the City Hall council chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

At the Dec. 13 session a spokesman for downtown business owners said many of his colleagues will be forced out of business if something isn't done soon. He contended that the opening of Orchard City drive and increased traffic along Campbell ave. has reduced business as much as 75 per cent in several stores.

Councilmen asked for a report from the public works department on any costs for making the change back and any safety problems it might create.

Also up for hearing Monday is:

- Final reading and adoption on a new city ordinance banning sex orientated businesses in the city.
- An offer, by the State of California Conservation Corp., of young people to work on city projects.
- A request for a Technician II position for the public works department to fill the vacancy left with the resignation of Engineering Manager Frank Lewis.
- A public hearing on a zone change request by Pat Swift for 1409 W. Campbell ave. The property, to be changed from R-2-S to PD zoning, would be used to construct eight single-family homes.
- A review of plans and development schedule for additions at 19 S. Third st. and 134 E. Campbell ave., by Free Enterprize, Inc. The tenant, White House restaurant, wants to use an adjacent building for commissary and office space.

New class scheduled for local parents

Improving communication between parents and youngsters is one of the goals of a course being offered by the Campbell elementary school district's Human Relations Education Committee.

Eight weekly sessions entitled "Dynamics of Human Relationships" begin on Wednesday, Jan. 12 at 7 p.m. at Campbell junior high school, 295 W. Cherry lane.

The instructor will be George Reynolds, counseling psychologist and the course will include:

- Role of parent and teacher.
- Techniques of relating to children at home.
- Student's behavior-goals.
- Problem solving.
- Communication.

Abbott seeks a second term

GORDON ABBOTT

"I think public service is a public responsibility," declared Gordon Abbott, president of the Campbell elementary school district, last week as he announced he'll seek a second four-year term on the local school board.

"Those with the interest and knowledge of the situation and certain talents have an obligation to serve," he continued.

And for the past four years Abbott has been serving — two terms as vice president of the board and the last two years as board president.

The preceeding board, Abbott said, was at odds and too often lost sight of the essential question, "What is best for the children within the financial constraints of the district?"

He feels the new board is much more cohesive and works together. "This team work has enabled us to make important gains essential to the sound operation of the district's educational programs. I intend to continue this effort," he said.

There are many challenges facing the board, he acknowledged, including a serious decline in enrollment (and the resulting loss of income) and a change in the community from a suburban to cosmopolitan area.

Abbott says the Campbell board has not "yielded to the pressure" in the face of a strong salary demand, as did one neighboring district, "which is now in serious financial straits for either not having adequate forecasting or yielding to pressure."

The 46-year-old accountant and his wife, Mayme, have three children. Two are students at Monroe school, in the district, and one is a sophomore at Del Mar high school.

His educational background includes an MBA, BA and BS degree and Abbott formerly served as president and treasurer of the Monroe Home and School Club.

The San Jose man is the second incumbent to announce he'll run for a second term. Trustee Jennie Vaughn said she'll be running again and Trustee George Baker said he hasn't decided yet.

"Our success will be measured by our ability to carry out the planning and organizing underway and completed for the benefit of our students," Abbott declared. "I am proud to have played a significant role in their reappraisal process."

Fifteen awards go to city family members

If there had been a prize for the employee with the longest tenure with the city last Monday night, Police Chief Don Burr would have won hands down.

At the last council session longevity awards were presented to 15 city employees with 10, 15 and 20 years with the city. Burr was the only one with 20 years.

Others honored included: 15 years, Warren Clark, Frank Furtaw, Cruz Gomes, Sal Leonardi, Frank Lewis, Jean Murdock, George Wallace and Richard Wixon.

Ten year employees honored included David Christian, George Italton, Robert Lockwood, Thomas Mikulin, Barbara Rader and Lawrence Versaw.

Last week I enjoyed a great dinner at the 94TH AERO SQUADRON w/my guest Marco Sorenson of Gen. Electric & Bonny Richmond from L.S.A. Travel Agency, S. J. The Poached Salmon was delightful, as well as the Lemon Veal and tender Prime Rib. Dinner incl. soup & salad, potatos & Farmhouse bread. We stopped by the new downstairs Disco to hear the very personable Chad Jefferies play music to keep people dancing — noticed every age represented on the dance floor. Do stop by! Closed Xmas Day — open N. Y.'s Eve!

I can't think of a more festive location for a New Year's celebration than CLEMENTINE'S RESTAURANT . . . The decor is so conducive to "ringing out an old year" & "bringing in a new." A spec. N. Y.'s Eve dinner ($10.95) w/be served from 8-11 p.m. open to the public. Select from Prime Rib (reg. or house cut), N. Y. (Closed Xmas & New Year's Day.)

Just heard that John McMannis was tired of all this sunny weather & has dashed off to Colorado to find some snow . . . Thought I'd see him at his other restaurant in Honolulu — PIECES OF EIGHT — but that's the breaks! His partner Terry Maloney is keeping things buzzing at MALONEY'S & you can be assured of a big "New Year's Eve celebration" here. (Closed Christmas Day & New Year's Day.) Stop by for "An Affair to Remember!"

A fighter for handicapped

White House appointment for local woman

By PAT SAFFORD

"THERE ARE NO handicapped individuals in the world," declares Jan Browne, "just people, some of whom are physically limited."

The local woman was one of 16 California residents picked to attend the White House Conference on Handicapped Individuals next May.

But before that big conference, which will include about 500 delegates from throughout the country, Jan will be busy meeting with other California committee members to discuss some of the issues.

A well known fighter for the handicapped, Jan led a group of people from the California Association of Physically Handicapped (CAPH) when they pleaded their case before Campbell city officials several years ago. How effective that group was can be measured by the improvements made locally, including the installation of ramping at key intersections throughout the city.

JAN, MARRIED and the mother of two grown children, has been wheelchair bound since a bout with polio in 1955. She does her own cooking and housework and recently returned to San Jose City College to complete her education, majoring in public relations and political science.

The new appointee was a divorced mother raising two children when she met her present husband. She and Joe attended the same dial-a-ride conference in 1974. Joe, a transportation planner for Cal Trans, "is quite a promoter on our behalf," says Jan.

The task of the new national committee is to report to the President and Congress on possible legislation, problems and potentials of the mental or physical handicapped and to increase public awareness in this area.

Jan feels that the county in general and Campbell in particular may well be the forerunners for the state or even the nation in planning for the needs of the physically limited.

"AND CALIFORNIA is far advanced in the area of solving mobility needs of the handicapped," she adds.

Besides being on the executive board of CAPH, Jan is also co-chairman of the state transportation commission for CAPH, a member of the county handicapped ad hoc committee on transportation, advisor on the handicapped for the Metropolitan Transportation Commission and a partner in Barrier Prevention Associates, a consulting firm.

At present Jan, and partner Velma Shelley, are working on a $35,000 study to advise San Francisco on how to make their present Muni system more accessible for the handicapped.

Santa Clara County has been working on that problem. Right now they're busy designing special elevators for the new 40 foot buses on order and they're receiving criticism from some quarters.

"LOCAL AGENCIES are complaining the elevators will cost too much, while the $8,000 budgeted cost for air conditioning is not questioned. That's because it (the air conditioning) is for the comfort of the passengers."

"Handicapped people should have the same rights as other individuals," she adds. "But it's very hard somehow, to get the message to the able-bodied community."

About three years ago Jan made a tour of the city with a PRESS photographer and reporter to see how Campbell rated on accessibility.

At that time the city's grade would have been a C-minus or D-plus. Most phones in public buildings were too high for a wheelchair-bound person to reach, many doors on public buildings (including the post office) could not be easily opened and even some of the new buildings, with special planning for the elderly or handicapped, didn't measure up.

LIKE THE ramping at City Hall. First, the grade is too steep for a person in a wheelchair to negotiate safely and second, with no landing at the top of the ramp, the doors cannot be opened. (A person in a wheelchair would have both hands busy trying to keep from rolling backward down the ramp.) And restrooms were strictly off limits for those in wheelchairs since there wasn't room to negotiate that first turn.

But times are changing. First, most new restaurants and businesses have special parking available for the handicapped, near the entrance and with enough room to fit a wheelchair between the cars. And new phones are being installed lower so they're accessible to all (including children).

THE FUTURE will hold even more changes, with the rules set down by a 1969 state law. Henceforth all state and federal owned or financed buildings and all public facilities must be accessible to the handicapped, including doors, phones and restrooms.

But there's still a lag in some areas. And Jan will have to cope with one of these on her trip to the nation's capital.

Airlines are not required to follow the same guidelines (they're regulated by the Federal Avaition Agency) and so restrooms in airliners are still inaccessible for those in wheelchairs.

So when Jan leaves in May she'll drive to the San Francisco airport, leave her car in the special parking lot for the handicapped and say "no thank you" to any offers of liquid refreshments.

She'll have to restrict her liquids before and during that five hour flight.

THE CONTINUING fight by Jan Browne to help the handicapped enjoy greater freedom of movement and independence will soon be taken to Washington, D.C. She was recently appointed to a White House conference on the handicapped. The local woman is outspoken in her views. To critics who say they don't see the need for special doors, etc. since they don't see many handicapped around, she has an answer. "You don't see them around," she declares, "because they can't GET around. But you'll be seeing more of us as things progress and as we teach our people to use the new facilities."

Free films for youth slated at the library

If you can't figure out what to do with the kids after Christmas, the Campbell library has an idea.

There'll be an afternoon film series for school age youngsters next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 28, 29 and 30. All films start at 2 p.m.

First on the bill next Tuesday is a Roy Rogers western film.

On Wednesday "Skateboarding" is the feature film and on Thursday a film on winter sports is planned.

The library is at 70 N. Central ave. and there's no charge for the films.

For more information call 378-8122.

New year's dance set for seniors

You don't have to have a dancing partner to attend the New Year's Dance for Senior Citizens being sponsored by the Community Services Office and Campbell Senior Social Club.

The event is planned for Friday, Jan. 14 at Hamilton School, 480 E. Hamilton ave, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Cost is $1 and there will be dancing, prizes and live music.

Singles or couples are welcomed to attend, according to Kathy Kote of Community Services.

For reservations or more information call her at 378-8141, ext. 252.

Elderly woman was almost a xmas pigeon

By BARBARA PAGE

An 89-year-old Campbell woman almost became a "Christmas pigeon" this year when she nearly became the victim of the "pigeon drop" caper, an old, but evidently still workable scheme.

She received a telephone call Wednesday from a man who identified himself as Mr. Hoffman, manager of the Wells Fargo Bank in Campbell. He asked if she would be willing to assist him with an internal bank theft by removing $5,000 from her savings account. She was instructed to place $2,000 of the money into her checking account and bring the rest of the withdrawal with her "in large bills" to the bank's parking lot.

She drove her car downtown, parking on Second st. near the bank, and was approached by another man who said he was a county deputy. Displaying a badge with "Deputy Sheriff" on it, the bogus deputy said he had been sent by the bank manager to pick up the $3,000.

At this point, the woman recounts, "It began to smell fishy." The "deputy," noticing her unease, suggested she meet the "manager" in the bank lobby and hand over the money there. Last seen, he was crossing the street to the bank parking lot.

The woman then went to the bank, sat down and waited for "Mr. Hoffman" to show up. He didn't. But a bank employee, who asked if she needed assistance, was told the tale of the "Attempted Grand Theft Under False Pretenses" and Campbell police were notified.

An investigation disclosed that no one by the name of "Hoffman" or resembling the "deputy" was employed by the bank.

Police request that local residents who receive any telephone calls from anyone purporting to be a bank official requesting they withdraw money for any reason, call the police immediately.

The next intended victim may not be so lucky.

Elf on duty at Quito

MOTORISTS ALONG Quito road in West San Jose were startled last week to see a life-sized elf in a bright red and white outfit ushering children across the street. But celebrating a holiday season isn't new to crossing guard Claire Ercolini. The week before Halloween the bright portable "stop" sign was wielded by a witch. "The kids get tired of just any old crossing guard," is Claire's explanation. And she's been a big hit with the younger set at Quito school. But there has been some teasing from a few of the sixth graders. "It doesn't bother me," she laughs, "I just tell them if you don't quit, I'll kiss you. That stops them!" She hasn't quite decided on a Valentine's day outfit for next year yet but you can bet that, come Easter season, there'll be a bunny on duty at the corner of Quito road and McCoy avenue. Quito youngsters pictured, not in order, are: Lynette Serano, Lesly Haronaya, Marty Fairall, Paul Seth, Lela Weaver, Sarah Adams, Chris Peterson, Brian Ercolini, Kevin Lococo, Karen Horner, Andy Thenhaus, Chipper Simpson and David Avery. Four projects

State funding still needed for Mission

Mission College, West Valley College District's second college, will open on schedule in September of 1978, if the college district receives state funding for four projects.

Dr. Leroy Lowery, assistant superintendent for finance, told governing board members as part of a construction activity report that four proposed projects, which will complete phase I at Mission, are ranked among the "top 10" by the state for funding in the 1977-78 year.

The projects include furniture and equipment for the main classroom and laboratory building, furniture and equipment for the central utility and maintenance plant, the initial complement of library books and working drawings and construction for further site development and utilities.

Lowery told the board that there are 134 projects from throughout the state which have been submitted to the state Department of Finance for inclusion in the governor's budget. The four projects cited above ranked number 1, 7, 8 and 9 by the state and are relatively secure for funding.

Two other projects at Mission College — construction of the environmental and applied sciences building (phase II) and some outdoor physical education facilities — are ranked only 68th and 115th by the state and funding for those two are not as secure, according to Lowery.

The district's five year master plan for construction will come to the board for review in January prior to submission to the state.

Drama students will be 'on tour'

Local schools can "order a play" through a new project set up by the Westmont high school drama department.

The tour, "Children's Theatre Plays," will feature dramatizations of plays written by students in local elementary and junior high schools.

"The children will be able to see their writing come to life," explained Sue Hale, director of the drama department, "and our Drama Commission will have the pleasure of performing new material."

The tour will begin in late January but dates should be booked in advance. Those interested can contact the Director or Erick Lubich, business manager of the commission, at the high school, 378-1500.

Filing season opens but . . . so far . . . no one's running for (re)election

With the filing period underway for the 15 board seats up for election in March, neither incumbents or challengers are flooding the County Registrar's office with their papers.

As of last Friday no one had filed for election or re-election in the Campbell elementary and high school district, West Valley College or the Cambrian or Moreland school districts. Three incumbents in each district are up for reelection.

The filing period opened December 12 and continues to Jan. 7 at 5 p.m.

Papers are available at the Registrar's office, 1555 Berger drive, San Jose or at most school district offices. Call 299-2161 for more information.

Two of the three incumbents in the Campbell Union School District say they'll run again. Seeking a second four-year term on the board are Trustee Jennie Vaughn and Board President Gordon Abbott. Trustee George Baker says he hasn't decided yet whether to run again.

Up for reelection in the Campbell Union High School District are Trustees Ray Silva, Dorothy Goble and Steve Tedesco. The latter was recently appointed from nine applicants to serve the unexpired term of Vern Rutlen who resigned. Tedesco said earlier he won't be listed as an "incumbent" on the ballot, even if it's allowed.

Trustees William Cilker, Foster Lopes and Mildred Wharton are up for re-election on the West Valley Joint Community College District.

In the Moreland district the terms of Sarah Dunham, John Hibbert and Damon Nalty will be up and, in the Cambrian district Robert Coleman, Jack Farnham and John Shehtanian will be facing voters again.

FIRE CHIEF Gene Borden is shown receiving a plaque commending local fire fighters for their dedicated service to the community. Two plaques, one for each fire house, were donated by the Baha'i Faith of Campbell last week. Presenting the awards are Hessam and Anne Khorvash, members of the local church.

Cards carry season's cheer

Christmas time in the sports world

on the hot corner

by dick sparrer

Oh no, not yet. It seems like every year jolly old Saint Nick comes earlier and earlier.

And it seems like every year it's harder to get all the shopping done and the Christmas cards mailed before the little old man with the black sack (hopefully, Santa Claus) slides down the chimney.

Well, he caught me short again. I didn't get a chance to send out my Christmas cards. So once again I'll share them with everyone so that they will get to their targets . . . er, intendeds before Dec. 25. Didn't the post office say the deadline for mailing Christmas cards was sometime in October?

Anyway, here's my mailing list.

TO THE SAN JOSE EARTHQUAKES:

Quite a few years ago, maybe a decade,
soccer was nearly unknown;
but in recent times great strides have been made,
and now it's a sport finely honed.
One reason, of course, for the growth of the game, is the popular San Jose Quakes;
They've done what they could to gain soccer fame, without a stadium, for goodness sakes!
So Merry Christmas, Earthquakes, and Happy New Year, you've done quite a lot for your sport,
and you've done your share for the area here,
all we could give back was support.

AND JUST A NOTE TO THE OAKLAND A'S:

There once was team, they called them the A's,
who ruled the American Loop;
They dominated baseball in those good ol' days,
but now most have flown the coop!
Jackson is gone, and so is "The Cat," they're now in the house built by Ruth;
And Rudi and Baylor each packed up a bat, they found Mr. Finley uncouth!
The Tenaces, Campys, Fingers and Sals, are no longer part of the crop;
There aren't many left from that old list of pals, who bickered their way to the top.
Just Garner and North and Vida remain, and, of course, their king, Charlie-O;
All they can hope for is a season of rain,
because that team is quite low.
But Merry Christmas, and you better enjoy it,
'cause next season won't be a breeze;
your team is not strong, in fact quite unfit,
it's got more holes than Swiss cheese!

TO MY SPORTS WRITING BUDDY, DAVE MENDONCA:

Happy holidays, Dave, it's near Christmas Day, you have just three days remaining;
but that's not the countdown that makes you feel gay, there's just 114 days 'til spring training!

TO THE SAN JOSE SUNBIRDS OF THE WOMEN'S PROFESSIONAL SOFTBALL LEAGUE:

Merry Christmas to the Sunbirds, and a Happy New Year, your first season was quite a success;
you had your share of problems, or so we hear,
but you still were the best in the West!
The troubles were widespread, broad through the beam,
from dissension to no microphone;
but they were just problems faced by many a team,
and there's really no reason to moan.
It was a great year, the players did fine,
and John Bruno did well too;
The only problem the team had was mine, no lockerroom interview!

MERRY CHRISTMAS, SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS, THIS VERSE IS DEDICATED TO YOU, AND ONLY YOU:

'Twas the night before trading, no deals had been made;
the owners were checking the Giants for a trade.
Stoneham was gone, but they would still cheer,
Lurie would play ol' Saint Nicholas this year.
The Giants were nestled, all snug in their beds, with visions of new jobs dancing in their heads.
Lurie in his necktie, Altobelli in his cap, knew that they had to fill an awfully big gap.
The Giants had problems in '76 tantamount, so no one was safe, not even "The Count"!
The owners had mapped out their wants with great care,
"Give up one player, they'll give up a pair!"
Well, down in LA there arose such a clatter, fans ran to their sports page to see what was the matter.
And what to their wondering eyes did appear?
A deal for Ken Reitz that still isn't clear!
Reitz for McGlothen, that doesn't sound nifty;
A mediocre pitcher, he's not even a lefty!
They've done it again, those Giants by the bay, given up a star in their very own way.
Another star's gone, it happens each year,
Card owner Busch must be snickering in his beer.
Everyone knows it, the Giants are dumb;
When it comes to trading players, they end up with bums!
They've always done it, ever since their trip West, kept the worst and traded the best!
There's Perry and Foster and all the Alou's;
Hands and Hundley, it's really not news.
There's Kingman, now Reitz, the latest to go,
Maddox and Metzger and remember Orlando!
The Giants don't trade, their annual call is give away, give away, give away all!
So more and more pennants will disappear out of sight, with the Giants in last, still claiming they're right!

TO MY BRAND NEW SON, MICHAEL ANDREW:

It's your first Christmas, son, you won't even remember, but we're making it something quite grand,
with stockings and tinsel in your first December,
we hope it comes off just as planned.
We waited a long time before you arrived,
and we're so glad you're finally here;
For many holidays we've been quite deprived,
but you've filled this Christmas with cheer.
We're just like most parents, in love with their son,
but he came at a nice time of year;
A baby at Christmas is just so much fun, especially your own little dear!

Merry Christmas to everyone and have a Happy New Year!

Olympians set for SF meet

AN OLYMPIC flavor is expected to permeate every event when Northern California's only indoor track and field carnival, the San Francisco Examiner Games, has its 14th renewal at the Cow Palace, Friday evening, Jan. 21.

Meet director Jim Terrill, in announcing the date for the 1977 meet, stated that he has been in contact with Olympic champions from a half dozen countries. They include Carribean gold medal sprinters Hasley Crawford (Trinidad) and Don Quarrie (Jamaica), miler John Walker (New Zealand), distance runners Lasse Viren (the two-time double winner from Finland) and Anders Garderud (Sweden), high jumper Jacek Wszola (Poland) and pole vaulter Tadeusz Slusarski (Poland).

Add to that list the elite American gold-winning group of weightman Mac Wilkins, long jumper Arnie Robinson, intermediate hurdler Edwin Moses, sprinters Millard Hampton (and other members of the USA 400 relay team) plus quartermilers Herman Frazier, Maxie Parks and Benny Brown.

There is the prospect of a 500 yard race limited just to gold medalists!

Terrill has also invited previous USA gold medal winners Willie Davenport (hurdles), Randy Williams (long jump) and distance runner Frank Shorter (who settled for a silver in the marathon at Montreal).

OTHER Montreal medal winners expected are high jumper Greg Joy (Canada), milers Ivo Van Damme (Belgium) and Paul-Heinz Wellmann (West Germany) plus USA long jumper James Butts.

On the women's side gold sprinters Annegret Richter (West Germany) and Irena Szewinska (Poland) plus American high jump record holder and Olympic placer Joni Huntley are just a few of the stars Terrill plans to have on hand.

Spicing the field will be local university products such as NCAA hurdle champ Dedy Cooper of San Jose State, Wesley Walker of Cal (hopefully back from mid-season football injury), long jumper James Lofton of Stanford and high jumper Ron Livers of San Jose State.

Tickets are now on sale at the Cow Palace and at all agencies.

Bellarmine grabs third at Menlo Lions tourney

FOILED IN THEIR bid to capture the Menlo Lions tournament championship, the Bellarmine Bells bounced back to bag third place in the tourney with a 36-35 win over Palo Alto.

The Bells, who were knocked out of title contention a night earlier by Menlo-Atherton, had to rally in the fourth period to overcome a three point deficit.

Steve Stroth led the Bells' low, but balanced, scoring attack with eight points. Mario Pera, Jim Tarpening and Joe Supple each canned six points while Joe Centis added four.

Menlo-Atherton had ended Bellarmine's championship dreams the previous night by handing Tony Pelosi's crew a 44-37 setback.

M-A built up an 11 point halftime lead and then withstood a mild Bellarmine threat in the second half to secure the win.

Centis led the Bells in scoring in the loss by tossing in 13 points while Stroth hit for 11. Supple popped in nine and both Ned McIver and Pera added two to round out the scoring.

BELLARMINE HAD opened the tourney by crushing Menlo School 64-67 behind Stroth's 23 point performance. The Bells' 6'5" forward bombed in 11 field goals on the night.

Supple drilled in 15 markers, Centis hooped 14 and Pera tallied 10. Joe Zuccaro was the only other Bell able to break into the scoring column, sinking a pair of free throws for two points.

In non-tournament action last Wednesday, Bellarmine rallied in the final period to pull out a 70-67 decision over stubborn Oak Grove on the Eagles' court.

Centis grabbed high game honors by pouring in 25 points. Stroth gave him plenty of support with a 19 point performance. Don Wakefield and Vic Corsiglia both chipped in with six.

Major Leaguers at SJCC bat camp

FOUR MAJOR league baseball players will be the featured guests during Christmas vacation when a baseball camp for young ballplayers between the ages of 11 and 20 will be held at San Jose City College.

Gene Tenace, formerly of the Oakland A's and now a member of the San Diego Padres, Phil Garner of the A's, and Charlie Williams and Mike Sadek of the San Francisco Giants will be the featured guests at the camp that will run from Monday, Dec. 27, to Thursday, Dec. 30, all four days from 9 a.m. to noon.

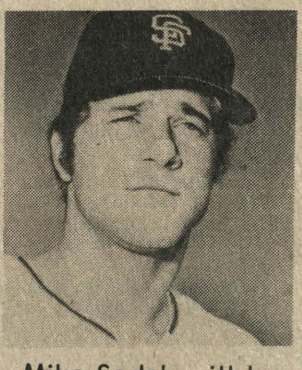
The pro-players will be wearing their team uniforms and the bay area players will get a first look at Tenace in his Padres' uniform. A special "Going Away Party" for Tenace will take place on Thursday, with all Christmas camp players invited.

Major League scouts participating at the camp include Al Enris, Orioles; Dick Hanlon, Dodgers; and Bernis de Veveiros, scout and instructor for the Detroit Tigers.

Highlights of the camp will be competition in the "All Star Champion" contest, which includes three categories composed of the "Best Hitter," "Most Accurate Thrower," and the "Fastest Runner." Players may enter one or all three categories. Players will compete in their own age groups. Winners will be awarded the "All Star Champion" baseball trophy, plus a school warm-up jacket and pro-cap worn by the staff.

Other exiting prizes to be given away are $100 in silver dollars, a professional glove and warm-up jackets.

The complete tuition for the four day camp at SJCC is $49. Interested players should contact the main office of the Broglio-Serpa Baseball School, 362 Parker Ave., Rodeo, Calif. (94572), or call (415) 799-3166 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.



Mike Sadek will be among the guest instructors at the Broglio - Serpa baseball camp, to be held at San Jose City College. The San Francisco Giants' catcher will be joined by Oakland A's second baseman Phil Garner, San Diego Padre newcomer Gene Tenace.

McNamara leads Dons into '77 WVAL championship race

LAST SEASON Mark McNamara blossomed into one of the most dominant high school centers in northern California while leading the Del Mar Dons to the West Valley Athletic League and third place finishes at the CCS playoffs and the northern California invitational.

And so, with a year of experience tucked neatly under his belt, it is McNamara's presence that makes the Dons overwhelming favorites to capture yet another WVAL hoop championship again this year.

"He's our strength," admitted longtime Don mentor, Dave Morgan. "He's the whole key to our team. If he plays well, we play well."

And so far McNamara has played very well. After Del Mar's first six games this season, the Dons' 6'10" center had tallied 153 points for an average of 25.5 points a game, third best in the CCS.

Big Mac's high game was a 34 point effort but in three consecutive nights at the recent James Lick Invitational he got into a rut, scoring 28 points each night.

Not only did McNamara's performance lead the Dons to the tourney title, but it also netted the big guy the tourney's Most Valuable Player award.

THE LICK award will go very nicely with the MVP awards he earned last year as the top player in the WVAL and on the annual All-SUN squad.

But one man does not a team make. And so it is with the Dons, who will be relying on four returners from last year's team to aid their big center.

Sean Nalty and Tom McClintic will handle the guard spots while Scott Cleland and Eric Oksen, both 6'2", will man the forward positions. None of the quartet were starters on last year's championship team and only Nalty, a junior, and Cleland saw much action as reserves.

Craig Fong, Gary Sammonds and Dave Davis give the Dons depth in the backcourt while Jim Quilci, Leon Roat, Curtis Walton, Bruce Minor and Dean DeWitt back-up the front line.

"We haven't played a real good game yet," said Morgan, who expects his club to get better as the season progresses. "We have a ways to go. We've had some good spots in all of our games, but I haven't been particularly pleased with any whole game yet."

DESPITE MORGAN'S analysis, the Dons have gotten off to another sizzling start, winning their first six games in a row. In addition to beating Lincoln, Piedmont Hills and St. Francis in the Lick tourney, the Dons have also defeated always tough Samuel Ayer, St. Francis (again) and Fremont, the only team that beat Del Mar in the regular season last year.

Looking ahead to the 1977 WVAL race, Morgan expects his Dons will have a much harder time trying to annex the league crown as compared to last year when Del Mar never really had a tough game until Los Gatos surprised it a bit in the championship game.

"Camden, Los Gatos, Branham, Westmont, Leigh and Blackford should all be pretty fair this year," noted Morgan. "I'm expecting a real tough race."

Pheasant kill down in state and federal areas

The pheasant kill on state and federal areas managed by the Department of Fish and Game this season totaled 3,602 birds, down 13 per cent from that for the 1975 season, according to a preliminary report from the DFG.

According to the department, the smaller kill was due primarily to the general decrease in production throughout the Central Valley.

On the 10 areas managed for pheasant hunting, 27,801 permits were issued to sportsmen to hunt on 35,940 acres on regular dates and an additional 4,000 acres on special dates. Hunter use dropped 5 per cent from that for the previous season.

Gray Lodge Wildlife Area led all areas in both the number of birds taken and the hunter success rate. The figures were 1,670 and .28, respectively.

Weather conditions were generally good, although there was a light rain Nov. 14, which was followed by dense morning and evening fog in some areas for the next week or so.

Cover conditions were generally good, although there was a light rain Nov. 14, which was followed by dense morning and evening fog in some areas for the next week or so.

Cover conditions were generally poor because of the early rice harvest and the burning of stubble and plowing of fields. The milo harvest was delayed, however, because of unseasonably warm weather during October and early November.

Fishing licenses

SPORT FISHING licenses for 1977 will go on sale at Department of Fish and Game offices and with license agents throughout the state by mid-month, the DFG announced today.

Angling licenses are issued on a calendar year basis, and 1977 licenses will be required beginning Jan. 1.

Fees are $4 for resident licenses, $2 for the inland waters validation stamp and $3 for the trout and salmon stamp. The three-day ocean fishing license costs $2.

With approximately 2.4 million licensed fishermen, California is the leading state in fishing license sales.

Morgan Night at Coliseum

JOE MORGAN of Oakland, second baseman for the Cincinnati Reds and two-time winner of the Most Valuable Player Award in the National League, will be honored by KNBR Radio 68 with his own night Tuesday, January 11th, at the Oakland Coliseum.

Bill Dwyer, General Manager of KNBR, calls it an honor long overdue. "Joe Morgan's accomplishments on the baseball diamond bring credit not only to his home town of Oakland but to the entire Bay Area. We are proud to be able to honor him and we thank the Golden State Warriors for allowing us to have Joe Morgan Night at the Coliseum."

Morgan, a staunch Warrior fan, attends most home games and special ceremonies are being planned for 7 P.M. January 11th immediately preceding the 7:30 P.M. Warrior game with Detroit.

Civic and community leaders are expected to join KNBR and the Warriors in the salute to Morgan.
